Farewell to a very special officer

A SPECIAL police officer with a distinguished career dating back more than four decades is finally retiring from the force. Michael Robinson MBE, joined the former West Suffolk Constabulary in October 1964, based at the old Haverhill police station in Camps Road. He was the longest serving special constable in Suffolk until his retirement from the service in 2000. For the past 10 years he has worked as a civilian officer in the control room at Haverhill the MBE for his dedication in 2004.

Mr Robinson received numerous long service awards and commendations over the years, including a chief constable's commendation for arresting an armed man in the village of kirting after a 25-hour man hunt. The man having previously escaped through a window at Haverhill police station. In 1990 Mr Robinson caught two burglars leaving Clare British Legion Club after giving chase Mr Robinson, who will celebrate his 65th birthday next week, said: "Age catches up with evervone.

"We have a chalet at the seaside and it will be nice to spend some time in the sunshine and just do as I please for a change "I have enjoyed it or I would not have carried on for so many years. It takes a special kind of person to be a special constable and I was proud to complete 40 years service." BY Jo Deeks

A HAVERHILL woman has received confidential medical records addressed to patients she doesn't know.

Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge sent the letters, all contained in one envelope, to Nicola Marsh's home in Burton End.

She had planned to simply return them to the hospital, but said she is so concerned about the confidentiality breach she now wants the matter investigated.

"They are nothing to do with me and it looks like highly confidential stuff," she

"I think something should be done about it, I think it is disgusting. You don't expect information about your medical history to be sent to a complete stranger.

been sent to someone else. You don't expect this kind of thing to happen at a hospital.

One of the patients was Joseph Kucel, of Abbey Close, Elstow, Bedford. He also wants a full explanation from Addenbrooke's

The letter is on headed paper from his doctor in Bedford and is marked "confidential". It refers to a letter received from the Addenbrooke's hepatobiliary service and requests Mr Kucel seek a rereferral with them.

The envelope containing the letter was addressed to the hepatobiliary service at Addenbrooke's and was inside another envelope sent to Mrs Marsh's address.

Mr Kucel said: "I am not very happy about this at all.

"It is very worrying if people's confidential letters are turning up at other people's homes.

Bands rock appeal for hospice funds!

ROCK fans who enjoyed a local charity gig helped raise a bumper £650 for our £40,000 Weekly News St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

Umbrella Assassins frontman Gary McKervill, who organised the event, this week handed over the cheque to Ian Norris, fundraiser for the Bury St Edmunds hospice.

The money will go towards funding in-home hospice care for patients in Haverhill and surrounding areas, saving them the journey to Bury St Edmunds.

Ian was in among the big crowd on June 21 at the gig which also featured the bands Indigo, Pelly's Field, DMS and the Kraze, as well as DJ The Honoured Few. Haverhill firm Kirton Healthcare sponsored the event by paying the hire cost of the venue.

Ian said: "It was a fantastic evening and we are very grateful for the money raised.

"It was nice to have a different age group supporting our charity. The young people were very enthusiastic and we are hoping to organise a charity gig again somewhere next year."

Since the concert, local band Umbrella Assassins have continued to raise their profile and can be seen at The Vixen pub in Haverhill this Friday from 8pm. In August they played two gigs BY Jo Deeks in Amsterdam. More recently they had a song played on Radio Suffolk and were featured on the station's web site. They recently played at Cambridge University and hope to record more songs next vear.

■ Raffle prize donations can be handed in at the St Nicholas Hospice Shop, at the top of Haverhill High Street, for the Christmas Bazaar, which will be held at the Methodist Church, in Camps Road, on Saturday, November 15, from 10.30am to 1pm.

There will be a range of gifts on sale, a chance to buy special Haverhill Christmas cards, as well as wrapping paper, cakes and refreshments.

■ St Nicholas Hospice also has a cure for the winter blues, offering visitors to its shop a chance to win a week's stay in a luxury Spanish villa in a free prize draw Entrants must fill in their name and address on the order form in this year's hospice Christmas card catalogue. This year's cards include a shot of a snow-dusted St Mary's Church, as well as Santa being caught speeding in Haverhill.

The catalogue is available from the hospice in Bury St Edmunds, in all eight hospice shops, or can be downloaded from www.stnich olashospice.org.uk

Cannabis charges

A CANNABIS factory was discovered by police in Haverhill last Friday.

Officers seized around 50 cannabis plants and hydroponic equipment from an address in Millfields Way when they executed a search warrant under the Misuse of Drugs Act. They also raided an address in Brybank Road where a 28-yearold woman from Haverhill received a warning for possession of cannabis. Daniel Killian, 31, and of Millfields Way, Haverhill, was charged with production of cannabis and a public order offence and is due before Bury Magistrates on November 11

Committee's 'no' to homes

MEMBERS of Haverhill Town Council's planning committee have raised objections to a re-submitted plan for homes on land next to Haverhill Snooker and Bowl Club in Chalkstone Way. They cited concerns over traffic congestion at certain times of the day and at weekends, as well as the site's close proximity to Coupals Road. Members also said the residential development would be too close the town's household waste site, raising concerns about smell and noise pollution

Have you got talent?

A LAST chance to audition for Haverhill's Got Talent is on offer this Friday from 5-9pm at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Eastern Avenue. Big prizes can be won in the contest, including a portfolio from The Gallery, a mountain bike, a gig in the Black Horse pub and vouchers. A panel of independent judges will chose those to appear in the semi-finals on November 28, followed by the final on December 10. Tickets to watch the auditions are £2. A HALLOWE'EN party went down a (trick or) treat when Bert – a special guy made by tiny tots – was returned in time for the big celebration by the thieves who stole him.

A spokesman for Addenbrooke's Hospital said: "At the moment it is not clear how these letters were delivered to Nicola Marsh's house. We have never known anything like this to happen before.

"The hospital takes patient confidentiality very seriously, and has strict policies on handling mail – policies which appear to have been breached in this case.

"We are investigating what happened as a matter of urgency, and will be contacting the patients involved to apologise."

The lapse in patient confidentiality comes after Gareth Goodier, Addenbrooke's chief executive, admitted that an in-house assessment had found a "high risk" of data loss.

Roads plan to move lorries out of town

A NEW Haverhill bypass should be upgraded to an A-road so lorries can be banned from the town centre, councillors say.

A detailed list outlining further development proposals for the north west area of the town – where 1,000 homes are set to be built – has been drawn up by Haverhill Town Council's planning committee.

Top of their wishlist is a proposal which would see the road linking Withersfield Road (the main Cambridge road) and Wratting Road (the main road to Bury St Edmunds) built to A road standard and, once completed become the new A143. It would enable HGV restrictions to be imposed and vehicles shifted off the town centre's Ehringshausen Way.

Councillors want the road

Councillors want the road opened before the 500th dwelling in the area is occupied.

Members agreed the list at their meeting on Tuesday night, and also asked that some of the money handed over by developers be paid directly to the town council to pay for community facilities.

Cllr Margaret Marks, chairman of the committee, said:
"We think it is very important that some of this money should be paid directly to the town council so that it can be used to enhance the town centre for these new residents who will be moving in."

Councillors also insisted the name of the new development should incorporate the word Haverhill and suggested "Haverhill Heights" as a possibility.

Also featured on the list are plans for a community centre and play area to be ready before the 400th home is occupied. This should be located in the midpoint between The Fox pub, Angle Junction and Meadowlands.

Councillors also want the new development linked to Howe Road and Ann Suckling Road, with these and existing estate roads incorporating traffic calming measures. They said the possibility of another light vehicle link using Abbotts Road should also be investigated. That may require compulsory purchase and would include footpath and cycle links through to Queen Street.

Councillors also want a range of house types in the new development, including executive housing, with no homes being more than 50 metres from a road accessible by public transport. Allotments should also be provided and a green barrier planted between the bypass and any properties along its length.

Town clerk Gordon Mussett was chosen to serve on the project group considering the development.

THE Stour Valley branch of Cats Protection has cats perately looking for new homes. Some arrive as strays, many are abandoned. Others come from loving homes that, due to circumstances, are unable to care for them any longer. When a cat comes in, it is given a complete health check by a vet which includes worming, removing all unsolicited visitors (fleas, earmites, etc) and dental checks, ensuring that when that special home comes along, it leaves in the best . welfare of cats is top priority and the branch always visits prospective owners the best possible home. Sasha is a two-year-old, all black and fluffy female cat. She loves nothing more than a good brush and a fuss. She is an affectionate, placid cat who loves children and would make a fantastic family cat.

Molly is a two-and-a-half-year-old female Bengal. She is a very confident girlie who will need an experienced owner. We have noticed that Molly doesn't particularly like other cats so she would suit a home where she is the only cat.

Meme is a two-year-old, black female cat with white paws. She is a loving cat and likes to be the centre of attention, hence her name. The centre doesn't know much about her other than she

Protest over clinic in car park plan

A LOCAL health professional has slammed plans for a temporary new medical clinic in a car park close to her premises and ques-tioned whether the centre is needed at all.

Osteopath Diana Garrod, of Dexascan Services based at Rose Cottages, off Withers-field Road, Haverhill, has written to St Edmundsbury Borough Council strongly objecting to plans to put up a two storey modular health centre for up to four years in the nearby car park behind the Rose and Crown pub.

The temporary clinic which could cost more than £740,000 over three years, minus running costs – will be open 8am to 8pm seven days a week and will be the first of its kind in Suffolk.

It will be based in the car park until Suffolk Primary Care Trust (PCT) and local councils can find a suitable permanent base.

In her letter to the St Edmundsbury planning depart-ment, Mrs Garrod said the plan would drastically reduce the amount of parking space for patients visiting the BY Jo Deeks premises of Dexascan, which undertakes bone density scanning for monitoring and preventing osteoporosis.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

She wrote: "The plans indicate that the entire car park will be used and all of the local businesses and residents will perhaps be offered a total of four parking spaces. Many of our patients are elderly and infirm and they cannot walk long distances.
"Five chiropractors, a pod-iatrist and a chiropodist also work at Rose Cottages, which has X-ray facilities. They too have over 300 patients a week. some of whom are disabled and infirm and are usually attending the clinic with some degree of pain.

Two busy dental practices are close by, all of these patients use the existing car park facilities. In choosing this site the PCT has not considered these patients needs.

"The Withersfield Road and Queen Street end of the town has little parking facilities. Businesses in Queen Street are already suffering due to the over zealous road closed

"The business 'Skin and

Tonic' has recently posted signs stating that it has gone into liquidation and many other businesses in this street are expected to follow when the Tesco superstore is built

The PCT is taking a knee-ierk reaction because it has failed to think the plan through properly and is running out of time."

Diana Garrod

"I think the council has forgotten the amount of rates businesses pay.

"I agree with local GPs who eel that the cost of this health centre is not justified and would be better spent improving existing facilities.

"The PCT is taking a 'knee jerk' reaction because it has failed to think the plan through properly and is running out of time due to Government directives.

"They could have considered the local Corn Exchange [a site previously used by the blood transfusion service] as a possible location. This was sold at auction, but still remains idle

JUST eight vehicles out of 530 clocked by police speed cameras over a period of two and a half hours were caught exceeding the limit.
Officers from the Haverhill

Police Safer Neighbourhood Team set up a speed check area in Haycocks Road last week. It was part of their on-going campaign to tackling speeding around the town, main priority after complaints were received from the public. Pc Will Wright said verbal warnings were given to seven motorists who were travelling at between 33-36 mph in the 30 mph zone and a £50 fixed penalty ticket and three points was handed to one motorist travelling above 37mph. He said: "We were surprised to

Dismay over latest road crash figures

RECKLESS drivers continue to flout traffic laws in Suffolk while death and serious injury on the county's roads continues to rise.

Deputy Chief Constable Jacqui Cheer described the latest figures that show 1,515 traffic offences were committed on Suffolk's roads between September 1 and October 21 as shocking"

She said: "At the begin-ning of September, Suffolk Constabulary launched, in partnership with Suffolk County Council, a period of sustained and enhanced enforcement across the county.

"This was introduced to reduce casualties by targ eting inappropriate behaviour on the county's roads.

"Worryingly, the number of people killed or seriously injured on roads in Suffolk is at a higher level than it was last year.

"Latest figures show that between January 1 and Oct-ober 24, there were 318 people killed or seriously injured on Suffolk's roads. In the same period in 2007, there were 240 people killed or seriously injured. This is 78 more casualties.

"So far, as part of the campaign, officers have caught 893 people without a seatbelt, 209 drivers using their mobile phones, and 413 motorists speeding. 276 fixed penalty notices have also been issued for other motoring offences, such as vehicle defects.

"Each and every person committing a traffic offence could end up being a statistic. We hope this campaign will save lives by changing people's behav-

"I can't emphasise how important it is for everyone to drive according to the law: this is for your safety and the safety of others."

Officers are now using speed cameras in unmarked vehicles to catch speeding motorists.

Deputy Chief Constable Cheer said research showed a strong link between those committing motoring offences and other general crimes, with their campaign leading to the arrests of nine people for other criminal offences.

Jail drug supply man imprisoned

A PRISON visitor spotted trying to supply illegal drugs to an inmate at Highpoint Prison has been jailed.

Khalid Khan, 37, pleaded guilty to two offences of supplying controlled drugs at the prison in Stradishall on January 21.

Ipswich Crown Court heard how staff had spotted packages of heroin and crack cocaine, which Khan dropped on the floor during a visit as he tried to pass them to a serving prisoner. Robert Sadd, prosecuting, said: "It was

Robert Sadd, prosecuting, said: "It was his misfortune to be seen to do so and the drugs were recovered."

The heroin had a street value of £250 and the crack cocaine £60 but those figures were likely to have been considerably higher inside the prison due to the shortage of supply, Mr Sad said.

Jailing Khan for three and a half years, Judge John Holt said a "significant" amount of drugs had been involved. He said: "This is serious offending."

The drugs seized were ordered to be destroyed.

Khan, of Moor Path, Luton, had a number of previous convictions, but none had been for drug related offences.

After being caught at Highpoint Prison, Khan had initially denied the two offences but changed his plea to guilty the day before his trial was due to herin

Richard Potts, mitigating for Khan, said the offences were the result of his client having fallen into debt over drugs and gambling and deciding that he needed to take action to reduce what he owed.

Mr Potts said: "For right or for wrong, that is how he came to be involved in these offences. He was under pressure.

"Quite clearly he knows what is the problem. It has been his drug use, it has been his gambling, it has been his debts. It has been his downfall."

Khan needed help to address his problems and his family had said they would stand by him, said Mr Potts.

After arranging for his three children to Join him in the UK from Pakistan, Khan now found himself due to become a father again, Mr Potts added. Khan's girlfriend, who sat sobbing in the public gallery, was three and a half months pregnant, the court heard.

Cash for research

GENEROUS shoppers at Haverhill helped raise £443 to help finance research into Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy.

Esther and Colin Mayes and their team of helpers organised the collection outside Sainsbury's and are very grateful to the store and the generous people who helped them raise such a large amount.

They said: "Through your kindness, an eventual cure is just a little bit closer, and hope for these children a little bit higher. Thank you for your help and support."

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%)

The ${f Net}$ rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our Hallmark or 90 Day Notice monthly interest options.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Cash Individual Savings Accounts (ISAs), and Cash Child Trust Fund accounts, pay interest tax-free provided all terms and conditions of the account types are met. On all other accounts, interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%). Tax assumptions are based on current legislation which may change in the future. Net rates are illustrative only and have been rounded to two decimal places. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches. Cambridge Building Society complies with The Banking Code.

Few problems on Hallowe'en

DESPITE a busier night than usual, Suffolk police had fewer reports of antisocial behaviour alcohol-fuelled violence on Hallowe'en, compared to a normal Friday night.

While Friday nights are always busy for police, with large numbers of people out in town centres across the county, the force's operations room reported fewer incidents of anti-social behaviour and al-cohol-related violence and disorder around pubs and clubs.

In the 24 hours to 6am on Saturday, 733 incidents were recorded by Suffolk Constabulary, more than usual number of reports for a Friday, which is normally between 400 and 600.

Inspector Bruce Gent said: "It would be reasonable to assume that the higher than usual number of events is attributable to Hallowe'en.

"Between 7pm on Friday night and 7am on Saturday, 55 events were directly attributable to Hallowe'en. The problems were mainly egg-throwing and rowdy groups of youths. There were several reports of fireworks being thrown.

"Officers on patrol were supported by Safer Neighbour-hood Team officers and 138 members of the Special Constabulary, who made a real difference and provided resilience to respond to the extra

"They were able to provide additional reassurance to the public on a night out in town centres as well as to comm-unities as children and young people went trick or treating.

"There were no significant Hallowe'en-related incidents and no Hallowe'en-related arrests.

"Overall, whilst it was a busy night it seems the majority of people heeded our advice to enjoy themselves, respect others and stay safe on Hallowe'en."

Parade day to remember expected for the Remembrance Day Parade in Haverhill on Sunday, which continues to attract bigger crowds each year. Centre at 1.30pm, with the parade setting off at 2.15pm. The procession will march down the High Street to the cemetery in Withersfield Road for the wreath An official salute will be taken outside the council offices in Lower Downs Slade, then a service will be held at St Mary's church in the town centre.

Man locked up for £11k burglary haul

A LABOURER who burgled a house while the owners were away on holiday has been sentenced to a year in cust-

Sean Paulyn, 20, and another man searched the property after smashing their way in through a dining room window to steal items worth more than £11.000.

Paulyn appeared at Ipswich Crown Court to be sentenced after pleading guilty to a charge of burglary.

Judge John Holt said because of the high value of the items taken and because damage had been caused, custody was inevitable.

Paulyn, a builder's labourer, of Castle Walk, Haverhill, was sentenced to 12 months in a young offenders institution.

Patricia Doggett, prosecuting, said the burglary had taken place on June 28, three days in Home Farm Lane, Bury St Edmunds, had gone on holiday.

The break-in was discovered by their daughter who had been keeping an eye on the house.

The entire property had been searched with drawers and cupboards left open, said Miss Jewellery, bank cards, electrical items, a computer tower, DVDs and an MG Midget car. were taken. The screen of a 32inch plasma TV had been scratched and the screen of a 50-inch plasma TV smashed.

Paulyn was arrested after a member of the public reported seeing him and two other men in a nearby field hiding items. They were also having diffi-culty starting the MG Midget

Police arrived to find Paulyn and one other man still there. Paulyn was in possession of a number of the bank cards. DVDs, camera equipment and the computer tower were found during a search of the area.

Officers were able to link Paulyn with the burglary because his fingerprints were found on a piece of an envelope inside the house. He pleaded guilty to burglary at his first court appearance.

Miss Doggett said the MG car, valued at £6,500 was recovered, but was damaged, and a further £4,438 worth of items were also recovered, but two rings once owned by one of victim's grandmother's were still missing, as Mitigating, Guy Holland said alcohol had played a part in Paulyn becoming involved.

Sentencing Paulyn, who had been cautioned for three previous offences and handed a conditional discharge for att-empting to steal from a scrapyard, Judge Holt said: "You have an atom of dishonesty within you.

Is fast food in hospitals a big fat mistake?

ADDENBROOKE'S Hospital is at the forefront of a trend that has seen burgers, baguettes and muffins become firm fixtures in the NHS.

As branded food outlets strengthen their presence in English hospitals, Addenbrooke's has become host to Burger King, Costa Coffee and Upper Crust.

That means the Cambridge hospital stands alongside Southampton University Hospitals NHS Trust as having more branded food outlets than any hospital in England, according to a survey.

While Addenbrooke's says it cannot dictate what staff and visitors choose to eat, a councillor has urged the hospital to show "moral responsibility" in choosing which food chains it allows onto the site.

In a survey conducted in January this year, consumer magazine Which? reported that four sandwiches on sale at Costa Coffee exceeded the 495 calories in a Big Mac.

An Addenbrooke's spokesman said: "We encourage people to make healthier choices, and all the outlets have healthy options, but it isn't our place to dictate what they cet."

Addenbrooke's also has a café run

Only one hospital in England has as many branded food outlets as Addenbrooke's, a survey has revealed. JOHN MORGAN looks at whether fast food chains and coffee shops fit with the NHS mission to encourage good health.

by WRVS volunteers, who turn the proceeds into donations for the hospital. As there is no canteen at Addenbrooke's available for the majority of staff, Burger King, Upper Crust, Costa Coffee and the WRVS café are the options for staff and visitors who want to buy a meal at the hospital.

Geoff Heathcock, a county councillor whose Queen Edith's ward includes Addenbrooke's, said: "There is concern that someone like Burger King is on the Addenbrooke's site. We are supposed to be actively promoting good health and healthy eating habits, and that includes not eating junk food.

"When you are running an acute hospital and dealing with the outcome of people making the wrong choices, there must be some moral responsibility on the hospital and its board in determining who they have on the site.

"Should they not be more responsible when Addenbrooke's is trying, or should be trying, alongside other agencies like the primary care trust, to encourage us all to be making healthy choices?"

A spokeswoman for Costa Coffee said: "At Costa we believe in delivering great customer satisfaction, which is aided by offering consumer choice throughout our product range.

"This is why when you visit Costa you can choose from a range of indulgent or healthier products.

"Costa customers can request that their coffee be made with skimmed milk or even soya milk at no extra cost. None of Costa's products contain added hydrogenated fats."

The spokeswoman added that nutritional information on its products is now available in all its stores.

In July, Addenbrooke's joined forces with Cambridge University and the Medical Research Council to address the epidemic of obesity by opening the Institute of Metabolic Science (IMS).

The IMS, which is based on the Cambridge Biomedical Campus at the Addenbrooke's site, aims to understand the biological causes of obesity, diabetes, and other weight related disorders, translating those scientific discoveries into "improved patient care and disease prevention".

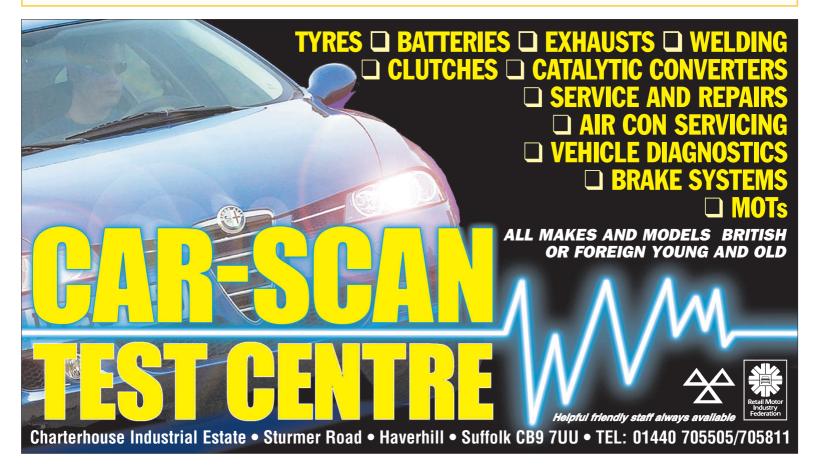

The national survey found that 40 out of 170 hospital trusts in England have branded food outlets. No NHS trust in Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland admitted to having a branded food outlet on site.

A Burger King spokeswoman said: "We offer a wide range of quality menu items with burgers made from 100 per cent flamegrilled beef, with no added salt.

"We also undertook independent research with the Food Research Group at Leeds Metropolitan University, which showed that a Whopper scores equally, if not better, than a sandwich from a high street sandwich retailer using the FSA sign posting system.

"Likewise, unlike many sandwich outlets, we also offer easily accessible nutritional information in restaurants and on our website so that our customers can make informed choices to meet their needs."

Dancefloor dangers and delights

STRICTLY Come Dancing may have prompted a surge in people taking up ballroom classes, but how are you going to fare on the dance floor at Christmas?

Women are often less selfconscious than their male counterparts, who tend to prop up the bar rather than trip the light fantastic.

light fantastic.
"It's a big hurdle to get your man on to the dance floor", says Lucy Dillon, author of

The Ballroom Class, a novel set in a beginners' ballroom class. But once you have learned a few steps, how can you adapt them to a party?

Lucy suggests the following tactics for the would-be dancer when faced with potentially tricky situations:

OFFICE PARTY

Dancefloor danger: The lecherous senior manager lets his hair down, which often results in ill-advised salsa. That can result in backs being put out and previously harmonious working relationships being forever tarnished.

Solution: If you've been looking for an excuse to shimmy up on your office crush, then flirty Latin dancing's a gift. The saucier, the better. But choose your partner carefully. If your manager asks you to dance, keep the stroking and eye-flashing to a minimum, step around him, not into his grinding hips and, failing that, request some tunes that you can't possibly interpret in a sexy way.

Pick a partner with care first!

THE FAMILY GET-TOGETHER

Dancefloor danger: Grandad might insist that he used to swing your gran round his head at the dance hall, but don't demand a replay unless you want to see what goes on in A&E on Boying Day

A&E on Boxing Day. Solution: The trick with rock and roll is to let the man just stand there while the woman does all the twirling and twisting. Just keep the jazz hands going and your feet will follow the music.

THE CHRISTMAS WEDDING GUEST

Dance floor danger: Your ideal man moves like a drain when they put the first dance on.

they put the first dance on. Solution: Disguise your awkward feet with a close hold, make your steps small shuffles and gaze into each other's eyes.

and gaze into each other's eyes. If, on the other hand, you're not worried about how you look on the dance floor, try out some moves as featured in forthcoming book The Best Dance Moves In The World...

Mum's fury over 'lack of help' at shop

lashed out at supermarket giant Tesco for refusing to heat milk for her hungry baby.

Teresa Porter left her home in Ruffles Road, Haverhill, with son Hamish, seven months, and daughter Lucy, four, to visit the Tesco store in Saffron Walden. She had a coupon to save £3 off nappies and planned to make the trip a family out-

But that plan took a turn for the worse when she dis-covered there was no longer café at the store and the the mother and baby room had no bottle warming facilities. Staff at the store's customer service desk told her they no longer provided the service and there was nothing they could do to help her heat her son's bottle.

Mrs Porter said: "It was supposed to be a little treat for us, but it turned into the morning from hell.

"I asked if they could just heat some water for me, but they said they could not help and did not seem very interested. The baby was screaming because he was hungry.

"I was absolutely fuming and I was so mad I bought two items – the nappies I had the voucher for and a packet of crisps for my daughter – and drove back to Haverhill.

"I had made a 40-mile round trip, we had nothing to eat and I still had to do my shopping. I phoned the store later, but they did not seem at all bothered.

"Lucy and I could have eaten a sandwich in the car, but I think they should have offered me some help to heat the milk for the baby.

Sidna Napier, duty manager for the Tesco store, said she would investigate the incident.

She said: "I was not here, so I do not know what happened. I think something should have been done, I personally would have helped her out."

Now playing: Smooth Jazz

AS with so many things in life, this refreshed Jazz has experienced a little middle age spread: it's slightly larger in all the right areas, ensuring occupants and their belongings can stretch out a bit more.

Progress and changes in attitude towards the environment have dictated that the Jazz now boasts two new petrol engines – diesel doesn't figure in the range. The 89bhp 1.2-litre unit should offer more of the same for buyers – economy and refinement – with the 99bhp 1.4-litre engine promising a more sprightly performance that should please anyone taking the Jazz further than the supermarket. While improved economy, emissions and refinement are important, the Jazz is not about outright performance. Comfort is king when you're dealing with compact cars that'll spend a lot of time in town, which makes Honda's decision to modify the Jazz's sus-pension welcome. Factor in the retuned steering and there's a notice able improvement in high speed stability and cornering ability.

Versatility is also key in the small car market, and this is another area where the first generation Jazz trumped the opposition. Along with the spacious cabin, the Jazz's clever folding rear seats and ingenious boot storage options won the hearts of many.

The good news is that such features have been retained, while 1.4-litre variants gain an innovative 'double trunk' boot. By manoeuvring a combination of the cargo net and boot floor panel you can change the storage options open to you. According to Honda. to you. According to Honda, everything from the occasional shopping bag to a pushchair will easily fit with the minimum of fuss.

And it's fair to say that occupants are unlikely to feel the pinch in the refinement department either. Make no mistake, for all the Jazz's down-to-earth versatility, it is not a bare-bones runabout. Fit, finish and equipment levels are easily up there with more expensive cars.

The big car feel continues with the generous array of equipment available. Whether it's electric windows, the impressive audio systems and satnay, the multitude of airbags and electronic stability controls to the very grown-up panoramic glass roof on the high-spec 1.4 model, there's never a feeling that you have to slum it just because you've chosen to buy a small car.

If that's not enough there's always the clever auto gearbox option for the larger engined Jazz. Strictly speaking it's a six-speed automated manual gearbox, but the absence of a clutch pedal should make it a popular choice for anyone spending a lot of time city driving.

The Jazz is a smart car. If you consider yourself a smart person who appreciates the important things in motoring – space, ease of use, refinement – then you'll appreciate Honda's latest Jazz.

Insignia future looks good

EUROTAXGLASS'S announced that it expects the Vauxhall Insignia to retain much better residual values than the Vectra when it hits the used car market.

The company suggests that the new £18,962 Insignia 2.0 CDTi SRi 5dr will retain 37 per cent (£7,000) of its purch price as a trade value after three years and 60,000 miles, compared to 28 per cent (£4,950) for the equivalent Vectra. "Though starting prices are higher than those of Vectra, Vauxhall has justified the increase by improving build quality and making it more entertaining to drive," said

Jason King, head of market intellig-ence EurotaxGlass's.

Improvements to style and hand-ling will have a strong effect on the value of the Insignia second-hand as well as a number of strong engine choices which offer good power with high mpg and emission ratings.

Loving the Recession!

No, really, we are! We run the advertising and sponsorship sales for several major publications and events for the Commonwealth, which means that we're selling into 50+ countries and into every imaginable sector. So what if UK banks are a bit tight at the moment - our clients in South Africa (and Malaysia and Trinidad and Ghana and India and Papua New Guinea and...) are spending more than ever.

What we really love about a good old downturn, though, is all those exceptionally articulate, intelligent, driven, internationally aware and confident salespeople that are possed over or made redundant by companies that haven't worked out that these are exactly the sort of people that they need right now.

If this sounds like you, give me a call to discuss selling on our projects. Even if you've never sold before, but figure that you've got the mind, voice and heart to do so, get in touch to find out how you too can buck

We offer the best training in the business, a supportive, intelligent and flexible working environment, a company that won't move the goalposts and uncapped commission.

Priory Parkside 1

CAMBRIDGE AND DISTRICT COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 12D

SWIFT kick-off created an opening for Ager to nod the ball through to Stevenson, who chipped the keeper to make it 1-0.

Ager picked up the ball from Lambert, glided past two tackles before slotting the ball home with the outside of his right boot.

Torode headed in from a Scotton corner, quickly followed by a cool finish to complete his brace.

Priory grabbed a goal back s Wratting's substitutes shuffled into position.

Ager set up Lambert for his first of the game as Wratting went into half-time 5-1 up.

A swerving corner was slammed into his own net by a visiting defender, before Lambert grabbed his second after going through one-on-one with the keeper.

Priory attacked the Wratting defence, but most attacks were dealt with by Gedny, Payne, Foster and Massie, well supported by keeper Millar.

Wratting continued the scoring as Sheath curled in a left-footed cracker before Ankers latched on to a Lambert through ball to score.

Bailey notched a clever goal

trick and the scoring.

Lambert shared the man-of-the-match accolade with Torode and Ager.

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, UNDER-10

THE first half of this match saw the away side with most of the play, but NST were dangerous on the break, hitting the post with their first attack

Near the end of the half,
James Austin scored for Grampian to go in 2-1 up.

After the restart, NST scored a good goal to level the scores.

As the home side pushed on, Grampian were able to hit them on the break. A powerful shot from Joshua Fisher was well saved by the goalkeeper, who could not stop Jack Halls scoring from the rebound.

Austin and Halls both scored again, with Sams adding two more at the end, the last a fine shot into the corner of the net.

Rovers sneak home after penalties drama

CRUSADERS returned to Haverhill for the second time in three weeks for what turned out to be a fascinating and gritty cup tie.

Both sides struggled to make an impact on a heavy pitch. The early exchanges between the teams looked cautious because of the conditions and the match took a while to get into any rythym. In terms of chances, the away side were ahead on points, with Ely having two clear opportunities, but Rovers' shot stopper Ben Coleman produced a couple of great saves to preserve the

Aztecs Juniors A 2

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE DIVISION 10B

AZTECS ended Elsenham Youths unbeaten start to the league season with this hard-fought victory.

Both teams made a solid opening with Elsenham almost breaking the deadlock when only a last-ditch tackle from Ben Paterson prevented the first goal.

However, Aztecs scored first midway through the half when a wide run from Luke Wood found Tyler Thurgood in the penalty area and he finished in style to continue his recent fine scoring run.

The visitors started the second half strongly, putting the Aztecs' defence under severe pressure and it was no surprise when Elsenham equalised with a fierce shot that was deflected into the net.

The hosts responded with some tactical changes, which immediately paid dividends when Alastair Green's pass from midfield sent Toby Goodship clear and he shot past the advancing goalkeeper and wrap up victory.

RUGBY UNION ROUND-UP

League defeat is a bitter pill to swallow for captain Bergin luck was not on Haverhill's side as they suffered a 17-7 home defeat at the hands of Harwich & Dovercourt in their Eastern Counties Two match on Saturday.

The captain thought his team played well and deserved more from the match, but a series of penalties slowly turned the contest in their opponents' favour. Jake Plumridge converted his own try to put Haverhill 7-0 up after 20 minutes, but the visitors levelled before the break and added 10 more points in the second period.
Bergin said: "We played quite well and showed plenty of well and snowed plenty or aggression, but we just didn't get the rub of the green."

The ever-improving Haverhill under-14 side had a comfortable 32-5 win when they visited Hadleigh on Sunday. They ran in six tries with three coming from winger Gareth Lester.

Haverhill spent most of the first half in the opposition's half, mixing their game by employing close pack play and spreading the ball along the backs.

Dan Nunn enjoyed charging through the Hadleigh forwards at every opportunity with the ever-reliable George Foley always in the thick of it.

The backs carried out their tasks to a tee with solid tackling and penetrating running with the improving full-back Matt Nash dropping in and out of the line as necessary. By half time, Haverhill had run in tries from No 8 Dom Famell and Lester to lead 12-0. Hadleigh pulled a try back soon after the re-start after Haverhill failed to control the situation when camped in their own five metres, but Lester settled his team when he caught a Hadleigh clearance and ran it in to score in the corner.

Tries from Toby Pink, Lester and a final individual run from Sam Daly made the final score 32-5 to Haverhill.

ON THE CHARGE . . .

Haverhill under-14s' powerful forward Dan Nunn prepares to evade a Hadleigh tackler as he helps his side to a convincing 32-5 victory on Sunday.

■ Haverhill under-sevens faced their Stowmarket counterparts and went down by six tries to three before drawing 2-2 with Ely. Captain Elliott MacPhail led the Haverhill side, who were impressive despite the defeat by a Stowmarket side made up of under-sevens and eights. Tries were scored by Jay Lamb, John Adams and Charlie Harvey. Men of the matches were John Adams and Jay Lamb. ■ Haverhill under-eights started a busy programme with three matches against Ely, drawing 4-4, losing 4-3 and winning by the same score. Against a combined Ely/Haverhill team, they won 4-1 and rounded things off with a 5-2 victory over Stowmarket. Try-scorers for Haverhill included Chelsea Pordage Adam Loverage, Nathan Dabs and Dean Cleary.

Haverhill under-nines went down by 10 -5 against Ely in an even contest However, a stunning breakaway saw Josh Paske cover three-quarters of the pitch to run in a score. Haverhill then took on Stowmarket and lost 15-5, but the scoreline flattered the winners, given Haverhill dominated possession. Again Paske picked up and ran from deep to score. Haverhill were rewarded for their earlier endeavours with a 10-0 win over Elv.

Brandon McKay's mazy run through the Ely's defence to score and Oliver Lovick's fast sprint down the wing to go over in the corner delivered the victory.

■ Despite having to borrow players from the opposition Haverhill under-12 performed creditably, despite going down 21-0 to Stowmarket and 21-7 to Ely. In the second match. Haverhill's endeavours were rewarded with a try from Daniel Crawshaw.

FOOTBALL: THE LATEST NEWS FROM HAMLET CROFT

Farlie tops for Rovers' return

■ POPULAR . . . Neil Farlie, who could make

HAVERHILL Rovers have begun their search for a new first team manager, but current caretaker boss Neil Farlie is firmly in the frame to take on the job permanently.

Rovers' chairman Steve Brown said: "Neil is the caretaker manager, but he feels that he should apply for the job, along with any others who come in for it. so that's the reason for what is happening now." Farlie took temporary charge of a Rovers side, who are currently struggling at the foot of the Ridgeons League, Premier Division, a few weeks after the start of the season, following Larry Billings' brief tenure.

If Farlie were to take on the job, it would be his third time in charge at Hamlet Croft and he has already been receiving public backing from people associated with the club.

Any applicants for the position should contact the chairman Brown by phone on 07929 882645 or by email at stephen.brown @hotmail.

Applications should be received by Thursday, November 20, with interviews taking place on Monday, November 24.

■ A late goal rush killed off Haverhill's hopes of getting anything from their league match, at FA Cup heroes Leiston, who notched a 4-0 victory on Saturday.

Paul Jenkin fired just wide with a powerful strike in the first half, while Ryan Kent had a shot saved soon after the break.

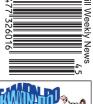

Rovers held Leiston, who went into the game on the back of a win at Blue Square Premier side Lewes to book their place in the first round of the Cup, to a goalless stalemate for an hour.

But the hosts knocked in four in the last 30 minutes to ensure Haverhill remain at the wrong end of the table.

Rovers' scheduled league fixture with Histon reserves on Tuesday evening was postponed because the Hamlet Croft pitch was waterlogged.
